About Senior Tech of Long Island

EAC Network’s Senior Tech of Long Island Computer Learning Centers are staffed by caring and knowledgeable volunteer instructors and coaches who make learning easy and fun. EAC Network’s Senior Tech of Long Island Computer Learning Centers have introduced more than 500,000 older adults to the wonders of technology via the internet.

What are the goals of Senior Tech of Long Island classes?

We offer courses for adults that include hands-on-training from basic to advanced classes. Our goal is to teach you what you need to know, using patient, experienced and friendly volunteer instructors and coaches, many of whom were once students themselves.

What are the classrooms like?

Our classrooms are designed for comfort and individual attention from both the instructors and coaches. The desktop computers are new and run the latest Microsoft Windows operating system. Non-computer courses require students to bring their own tablets, smart phones, or other technologies, as they are not provided.

What classes do we offer?

Whether you are new to technology, returning for review or just want to gain new skills, our training can help. From computer basics to the Internet, we have a class to meet your needs. Classes include:

- iPads & Tablets
- Smart Phones
- The Internet for iPads & Tablets
- Computer Basics
- Skype
- Microsoft Word
- Windows 10
- Facebook
- Digital Photo Editing
- Internet Security
